Mokena Residents Get Facts and Figures on Modern Sewer System

Facts and figures concerning sewer systems, including the disposal of sewage thru treatment plants, were discussed at a meeting sponsored by the Mokena Civic Association in VFW hall Tuesday night.

The public had been invited and following talks by two engineers there was a question and answer period with George Bills, program chairman, acting as moderator.

The speakers were Richard S. Nelle, a sanitary engineer for the state sanitary water board, and Jeremy C. Zimmerman, of Consoer-Townsend Associates, a Chicago engineering firm. Incidentally Consoer-Townsend were the engineers for the water and sewer extension project in Joliet and planned the sewage treatment plant now under construction there.

Mokena, Mr. Nelle said, was in the same position as many other communities in the state. It has no sewer system. Residents use septic tanks and the waste from them passes into Hickory creek.

It used to be that a state law made an exception of Hickory creek and permitted the introduction of raw sewage in that stream but according to Nelle this law was changed in 1951 and the dumping of sewage into Hickory creek is now banned.

The state sanitary water board, the chief objective of which is to end stream pollution in Illinois is cracking down on communities that persist in stream pollution. The water board itself is not an enforcing agency but works thru the attorney general's office, Nelle explained.

Mokena's nearness to Chicago and its transportation facilities make it attractive to persons who want breathing space. Nelle pointed out, so the growth of the community will continue. In the past five years the village population has increased more than 200 it was said, and there are numerous subdivisions just outside the corporate limits.

Some one in the audience said that a home building firm from Chicago is supposed to have purchased 320 acres on the outskirts of Mokena but that the sale was being footed quite hush-hush and no identification made yet of any of the parties to the alleged transaction.

But whether such a deal is in the making or not, it is the consensus of opinion of those familiar with such things that eventually most of the area will be built up making a modern sewer system imperative, it was said.

Mokena can meet its problem thru either operation of a sewer treatment plant or by the village government or thru creation of a sanitary district, Nelle said. Steps to form a sanitary district at New Lenox were taken several weeks ago.

There is also a set up known as a river conservancy district with wider powers than those accorded a sanitary district, Nelle explained. A river conservancy district, the speaker added, could be employed to take care of the entire Hickory creek watershed, taking in Frankfort, Mokena, New Lenox, Manhattan and Joliet, with all the territory around and between.

Describes Bonds

Such a plan, however, was described as one for the future. Nelle said that while sanitary districts don't build lateral sewers (those are the lines that serve homes and small businesses) there are provisions of the law under which they can.

A sanitary district, of the type that could be created here, can impose a maximum tax rate of 8 1/2 cents per $100 assessed valuation, Nelle said, but it can be doubled thru referendum.

He and Zimmerman both touched on the financing of a sewer system.

It can be done thru issuance of sewer revenue bonds, general obligation bonds, a combination of revenue and general obligation bonds, or special assessment.

Revenue bonds are retired and their interest met thru charges collected for use of the sewer and the sewage treatment plant, it was explained, and paid directly by the persons concerned.

General obligation bonds would be a charge against the village and would be retired thru taxation.

Special assessment bonds are those which are paid off by assessments against the property abutting the improvement.

Mr. Zimmerman said that few improvements are financed thru special assessments in Illinois because the discount rate as

Library To Close Next Wednesday; Has New Books

The volunteer librarians who staff the Mokena library are first of all housewives, and with Thanksgiving just a week away, they will be in the midst of preparations for that national feast day and as a result the library will not be open next Wednesday.

This announcement was made yesterday by Mrs. Walter Shewski, president of the Mokena Book club. Book club members heard a review of "All My Darlings" at their meeting last Friday in the home of Mrs. Theodore Pettes. The review was given by Mrs. Edward Akers. "All My Darlings" is a family story and the Book club has placed a copy in the library.

Other books recently added to the library list include "No Time for Sorrow" by Mac Hyman, an hilarious tale of the effect a Georgia farmboy had on at least one segment of the U. S. Army. A movie has been made of this story but has not been released yet.

Also on the list of new books is "Marjorie Morningstar" by Herman Wouk, a novel dealing with a young actress. "The Utmost Island" by Henry Meyers, a re-creation of the days of the Vikings; "The Good Shepherd" by C. S. Forester of Capt. Hornblower fame, which is concerned with the battle between an American ship and a German sub, and for those who like travel books is "Europe, A Journey with Pictures" by Anne Freeman and Bryan Holme.

L-W Vo-Ag. Classes State's Choice for Experimental Work

The state office of vocational education has designated Lincoln Way high school a pilot center for revision of the students' farm program record book.

The Lincoln-Way department will use the new record book with all of their agriculture classes for a period of two years. There are twelve schools in the northern region of the state working on this project. Instructors from these pilot centers will meet from time to time to discuss progress and recommend improvements.

After the two year test period, the book will have its final revision and be adopted by the state as the required record book for vocational agriculture projects.

Robert Van Rheeden, vo-ag instructor, attended the first meeting of the group which was held at Morris.

well as the interest are quite high. Zimmerman gave figures on the cost of a sewer system and treatment plant for a community of approximately 1,200 population.

Sanitary laterals, he said, probably would run to about $5 a foot and 20,000 feet of 8-inch sewer pipe would be needed. An activated sludge treatment plant would cost about $60,000. An interceptor sewer would be needed to carry the lateral collections to the treatment plant.

Zimmerman estimated the total cost at about $200,000. Revenue bonds for this amount, bearing an estimated 4 1/2 percent interest charge, could be retired in 30 years at $12,500 a year.

Operating costs, he said, probably would run $6,000 a year. If there were 400 customers, Zimmerman went on, the cost of retiring the bonds would be $32.50 a year for each user, and to meet the operating cost of $6,000 would cost each user another $15 a year, or a total of $47.50 per year or about $4 a month.

Mokena has an assessed valuation of $1,600,000, Zimmerman said, and under the law it can issue general obligation bonds up to 5 percent of the assessed valuation. The village could now issue about $83,000 in such bonds it was said, providing of course, the people voted them. He added that both general obligation and sewer revenue bonds could be issued if necessary.

Special revenue bonds would increase the cost of the project 30 to 40 percent, Zimmerman said.

At the close of the meeting Mr. Bills said that the meeting had been held by the Civic Association as a public service and that the association stood ready to conduct such affairs whenever it was requested by any groups.

Hunter Turns Gunman, Shoots At Engineer

A shotgun blast, apparently deliberately loosed at the cab of a Rock Island passenger train diesel engine last Friday afternoon, shattered a window and drove glass fragments into the face of the engineer, Earl T. Cavanaugh, 55, of 16906 Oak Park ave., Tinley Park.

One of the pellets from the charge also struck his glasses and pitted one of the lens.

Cavanaugh was piloting a train that had left Joliet around 4:15 Friday afternoon, East of New Lenox, near what is known locally as "the old iron bridge" (it is on the road running north from U. S. route 30, just east of Lincoln-Way high school, Cavanaugh noticed two hunters, walking along the track in front of the train. They appeared to be teenagers, he said.

Fires Deliberately

Cavanaugh gave a warning blast of the horn and when the pair made no move to get off the tracks, sounded it again. The young man then stepped off the tracks and as the train reached them, Cavanaugh said, one of them raised his gun and fired pointblank at the cab. The train was traveling between 50 and 60 miles an hour at the time so when the engineer got it stopped it was some distance from the scene.

Cavanaugh found that his face was bleeding and that one of the lens of his glasses had been broken but decided he was not seriously injured and went on.

When the train stopped at Mokena one of the passengers who resides there telephoned the sheriff's office at Joliet and reported the incident. A search of the area failed to find the shooter.

Finishes Run

Cavanaugh took the train on into Chicago and then went to his family physician for treatment. Last Friday was the first day of the pheasant season and many hunters were out around the countryside. At first it was reported that Cavanaugh had been injured thru a stray shot fired by a hunter working a field south of the right of way, but now it is said that the shooting apparently was deliberate.

Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Plan Feather Party

The Holy Name society of St. Mary's church is to hold its annual feather party this Saturday night, Nov. 19. The party is to be given in the new school on 19th and 11th ave. west of Wolf rd., and the public is invited.

The affair will be the first of several parish activities planned by the Holy Name men. When the new church is completed an open house will be held so the public can inspect the building.

The Holy Name society feather party preceding Thanksgiving is always a gay affair and is expected to draw a large crowd.

Paper To Publish Early Next Week

Because of Thanksgiving coming next week on our regular publication day, we will print the last run of the papers on Tuesday in order to have the papers in the mail Wednesday morning.

Therefore we urgently ask all readers who have news and ads for that issue to send or bring them to us by this Friday which will be the same for us as tho it were our regular Monday.

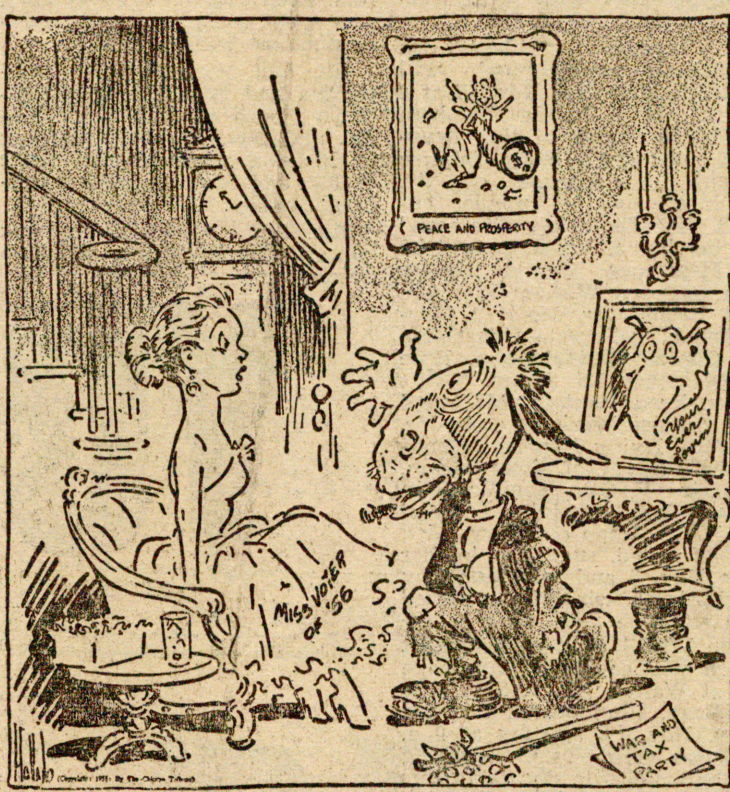

Shopping Bag Has New Manager

The Shopping Bag at Mokena has a new manager. He arrived on Armistice day, Nov. 11, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thorson and was born in Silver Cross hospital, Joliet. He weighs seven pounds two ounces and has been named Ralph Edwin Jr. He and his mother were welcomed home yesterday by his brother and sister in addition to his father.

WILL SHOW FILM

A sound motion picture will be shown in the Frankfort Methodist church this Sunday evening Nov. 20 at 7:30 o'clock. The picture is titled "Song of the Shining Mountains" and depicts the story of an American Indian and how the church helped him to make difficult adjustments. Everyone is invited to attend.

Four Will County 4-H Leaders Win Special State Recognition

More than 7,000 local volunteer 4-H club leaders in Illinois will be given special recognition during the tenth annual local volunteer 4-H Leaders' Recognition day next Tuesday, Nov. 22.

Four Will County 4-H leaders will be among those so honored according to Assistant Farm Adviser Ken Bailey.

Big events of the day will be the annual 4-H Leaders' Recognition luncheon at the Hotel Abraham Lincoln in Springfield. Two agricultural and two home economics club leaders and one extension worker from each county in the state are invited each year to represent their local county leaders at this event, Bailey says. They are selected by the county from those leaders who have not previously attended.

Attending from Will county this year will be Mrs. John Herron, Mrs. Fred Francis of New Lenox, George Brislin and Ivan Archibald of New Lenox.

Local leaders who have attended the Recognition Day program from Will county during the past nine years include:

Ralph Klett, Alfred Petersen, Virgil Selk, Ronald Hack, Delbert Breitwieser, Lawrence Meyer, Ralph Reiter, Mrs. D. E. Bourrie, Mrs. Lester Schroeder, Mrs. Walter Niehus, Mrs. Geo. Phillips, Mrs. George Eisenbrandt, Mrs. Fred Kopelman and Mrs. Norman Krapf.

Last year 366 volunteer local club leaders and extension representatives from 84 counties registered for the day's events in Springfield. Those in charge of the program expect that attendance will be even higher this year. Registration will begin at 8:00 a.m. in the lobby of the Abraham Lincoln hotel.

4-H Volunteer Leader's Recognition day is planned each year to follow closely after national 4-H achievement day so that local club leaders can share in some of the public acclaim given at that time to 4-H club members for their accomplishments. It is the local efforts of these leaders, without pay, that make 4-H club work in Illinois and all over the country the successful organization it is today.

Machines Will Improve Reading

Within the next two weeks, Lincoln-Way students will have two new machines to improve their reading.

One, the controlled reader, flashes a continuous story on a screen. A moving slot travels across the screen covering and uncovering a line of print. Its speed can be varied from zero to 900 words per minute. This machine is designed to develop fewer eye fixations or eye stops, effective left to right control, fewer regressions (looking back) and a broader span of recognition. At a recent faculty meeting a demonstration of this device was given.

The teachers appeared to enjoy a story of Betty Zane, but lost interest in a technical account about wasps. The Lincoln-Way reading committee authorized the purchase of the machine, which also had been demonstrated last year.

The other machine is a tachistoscope (pronounced "to kiss toe scope"). It flashes single words, phrases, short clauses, groups of digits, arithmetic combinations, typewriting or shorthand combinations, geometric forms and even music scores. For this machine any teacher can make his own slides.

On Nov. 7 two English classes and a guest, Supt. John Oster, of the New Lenox elementary schools, saw this machine demonstrated. The tachistoscope has been purchased by Miss Harra.

Both these machines will be used in the new special reading room behind the library. Frank Goetschel, building superintendent and his assistants, have finished off the room now and are busy solving the problem of heat. They have also promised to build a bookcase on wheels to move the new reading materials and workbooks from one English room to another.

CANCER CLINIC

Dr. Paul E. Landmann, director of the Will-Grundy County Cancer diagnostic clinic announces there will be a meeting of the clinic at Joliet Nov. 22 from 10 to 11 a.m. Patients attending must have a referral from or be accompanied by their physician or dentist.

Clinics Will be Held Nov. 22-23 At New Lenox, Frankfort, Mokena — Parents Must Make Decision

Begin Sale of Christmas Seals

The annual sale of Christmas seals has begun.

Proceeds are used to finance the fight against tuberculosis and the rehabilitation of persons recovering from the disease.

No house to house canvass is made in the Christmas seal sale. Seals are mailed out to residents with a letter asking their aid.

The sale began yesterday and is scheduled to end on Christmas day.

Those in charge point out that actually there is no need for that much time. The money could be forthcoming in less than a week if the public cooperates. It was explained. All anyone has to do, it was said, was to return his or her contribution immediately after the seals are received.

Some Forget

Some persons do that but not enough, it was said. Too many lay aside the seals at the time with the mental note to send in the money later, it was pointed out. Fortunately a large number of persons do think of it again and mail in their contributions but a much larger number, the records show, in the hustle and bustle of the holiday season, forget all about it. Additional notices stir the memory of some, but there are others who pay no attention to such reminders, not even making the effort to see what they are.

Those in charge say it would be a wonderful thing if everyone would get their contributions in the mail the same day they receive the seals.

If that were done the campaign could be finished in 24 hours.

Harold J. Schmitz of Lockport is chairman of the seal sale campaign in Will county. He and Dr. Gordon Richards, president of the Will County Tuberculosis association, are confident the campaign will be successful.

William Blaha, of Mokena, Herbert Lambrecht of Frankfort and Roy Pfeiffer of New Lenox are the area chairmen in Will county and members from the New Lenox and Frankfort Women's clubs aided in the preparation of the letters that accompany the seals.

Woman Designs Seal

"Altho great strides have been made in the half century since Einar Holboell, the Danish postal clerk, conceived the idea for Christmas seals, there is still much remaining to be done," said Dr. Richards. "Tuberculosis is still a definite health threat, but the progress that has been made in treatment and control encourages us to believe that the disease may eventually be eliminated almost entirely if we continue the fight on a vigorous scale."

This year's seals were designed by Miss Jean Simpson from Philadelphia. She is only the fourth woman designer since Emily Bissell, created the first American Christmas Seal in 1907. Miss Simpson chose the two little children because she felt they best expressed the feeling of Christmas.

Wayfarers Club Elect Officers; To Aid Orphanage

At the meeting of the Wayfarers and auxiliary, held Nov. 12 in the social rooms of the Mokena Methodist church officers were elected. For the Wayfarers Dallas Webster, president; Eric Anderson, vice president; Harold Behan, secretary and Henry Clark, treasurer. For the auxiliary, Erna Schoeneck, president; Mary Bottema, vice president; Frances Webster, secretary and Helen Johnston, treasurer.

The group will send a cash contribution to the Open Door children's home in Hazard, Ky., in addition to a box of clothing, toys, books and candy.

The next meeting of the group will be Dec. 10 in the form of a Christmas party.

TEEN AGE DANCE

Teen agers of Frankfort will dance in the school gym Saturday night from 7 to 10 o'clock. The affair is sponsored by the PTA. Those in charge request parents who are to call for their children, to be at the school promptly at the closing hour of 10 o'clock. The sponsors must remain in the school with the children until the parents do come and they would like to get home.

Marley Church Has Week Of Special Services

The Rev. Lawrence Janssen, a member of the juvenile protection field staff of the American Baptist Home Missions boards will be the speaker at the week of special services in the Marley church Nov. 27 to Dec. 2.

The Rev. Mr. Janssen has been a pastor, and has had experience working with state

Arrangements have been completed by the Will county health department under which youngsters who received their first polio vaccine shots last spring can get second shots now.

These immunization clinics are slated for Nov. 22, and 30. Clinics for children living outside of Joliet will be held the first two dates. Clinics for children living in Joliet will be held Nov. 30.

Youngsters at Frankfort, New Lenox and Manhattan, will be treated Tuesday, Nov. 22. Mokena youngsters will get their shots on Wednesday, Nov. 23.

The clinic at Frankfort is to be held at the grade school there, beginning at 9 o'clock, and will include children from Gatter, Ann Rutledge and Wietendorf schools.

Haven school, New Lenox, is to be the scene of the clinic there, beginning at 9:30. Youngsters treated there will be from the Haven, Oakview, St. Jude's, Reiter, Francis, Marley and Lynk schools.

At Manhattan the clinic is to begin at 8:30 o'clock in the grade school and will serve children from the village school, St. Joseph and Lower Ridge schools.

Schmuhl school pupils will receive shots in their own building at 10:30.

The clinic at Mokena is to be conducted in the grade school, beginning at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. It will serve children from the public school, St. Mary's and Summit Hill schools. A clinic also is scheduled at Green Garden school at 9 o'clock Wednesday.

Serum Arrives

Central school at Lockport is to be site for the clinic serving that community and the following schools: Ludwig, St. Dennis, St. Joseph, Reed, Barnett, Harley, Ross, Taft, Wells Corner and Goodings. The Lockport clinic also is to be held Wednesday, Nov. 24, beginning at 9:30.

These clinics are being held only for those children who received one dose of vaccine in the spring of 1955. Children who have received two or more doses of vaccine, or those who have not received any vaccine will not be eligible at these clinics.

The county health department has received a shipment of vaccine, produced by the Eli Lilly Co., which will be sufficient to provide a second shot for those children who received their first shot earlier this year. This vaccine has been made available to Will county free of charge by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis as a part of its program. Physicians thruout the county are donating their services at these clinics.

To Arrange Transportation

Due to the fact that considerable time has elapsed since the first clinics were held in the spring of 1955 and also due to the fact that some questionable results have been obtained with polio vaccine in various parts of the country during the past months, children are required to have a consent form signed by their parents before they can receive the vaccine at these clinics. While the overall results of the use of poliomyelitis vaccine have been encouraging, the possibility of undesirable response or reaction in the case of any one individual, while perhaps not likely can not be ruled out entirely. The health department, in accepting the responsibility of organizing these clinics for Nat. Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, feels that since the use of polio vaccine is still a new development in preventive medical practice, the final decision for its use must be left to each individual family.

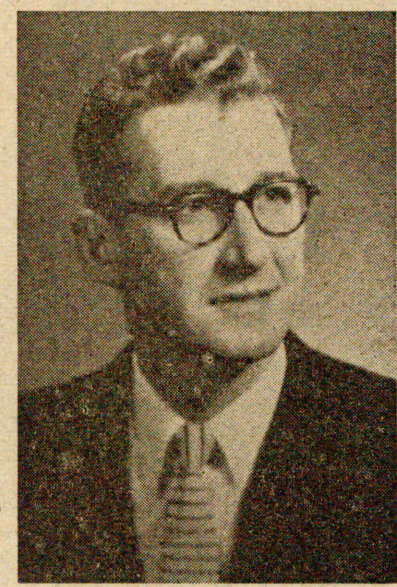

Children, whose parents have returned signed consent forms to their school, will receive the vaccine during school hours. The school will arrange transportation, where needed, to the school serving as a clinic center for each area.

Union Thanksgiving Services Will Be Held in Frankfort

Union Thanksgiving services will be held Thursday morning Nov. 24 at 10 a.m. in St. Peter's Evangelical and Reformed church with the Frankfort Methodist odist church cooperating.

The pastors, the Rev. Erich Bizer and Rev. Ben F. Day will be in charge of the services with the choir of St. Peter's providing special Thanksgiving anthems.

The public is cordially invited to attend the service.

Eileen Hoeh, Robert P. Fremder Are Married by Bride's Father

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Eileen Joyce Hoeh, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Carl Hoeh, of Tinley Park, and Pvt. Robert P. Fremder, 1307 Bunker ave., Flossmoor, on Saturday, Nov. 6 at 5:00 pm. in the Trinity Lutheran church, Tinley Park, with the Rev. Mr. Hoeh, father of the bride, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The altar and chancel were decorated with white mums and candelabra and candles along the aisle. The candles were lighted by Henry Bettenhausen and Leroy Hoeh.

The bride who was escorted by her father, wore a cathedral gown of imported hand clipped chantilly lace, trimmed with iridescent sequins, and with a long train. The skirt fell over layers of nylon tulle, the delicate lace pattern forming a scalloped edge. Her fingertip veil edged with chantilly lace, was attached to a tiara trimmed with bugle beads and rhinestones. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift from the groom and carried a bouquet of white calla lilies and snowdrift on a white Bible.

The maid of honor, Miss Lois Peters, wore a waltz length gown of two tone delustered satin of shell pink with deeper pink at the portrait neck line and sash which crossed and ended in two back panels.

The bridesmaids, Miss Judy Hoeh, Miss Laura Marquardt and Mrs. Marlene Gray, wore gowns identical to that worn by the maid of honor. All wore white gloves, a gift from the bride. Their matching crowns were trimmed with pearls and rhinestones. They carried mums and garnet roses.

Donna Hoeh, sister of the bride and Linda Hoeh, niece of the bride, were flower girls. They wore floor length white ruffled dresses with pink velvet sashes and small pink bows on their skirts. They carried baskets of rose petals which they scattered on their way to the altar.

James Fremder, brother of the groom, was best man. Don Goessel, Leroy Hoeh and Henry Bettenhausen Jr., were ushers.

The bride's mother wore amethyst velvet with accessories of pale pink and corsage of white cymbidiums. The groom's mother was gown in mink brown peau de soie with accessories of beige. Her corsage was of beige cymbidiums.

Mrs. Ervin Schroeder, organist accompanied Mrs. Helen Burge who sang "The Lord Be With You" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Following the ceremony, dinner was served by the Ladies Aid to 250 guests in the school hall. Bouquets of mums decorated the tables. The newlyweds drove to French Lick, Ind. where they spent their honeymoon. Pvt. Fremder has returned to Camp Chaffee, Ark., where his bride hopes to join him.

The bride was previously employed as a bookkeeper at the North American Mushroom company. Both the bride and groom are graduates of the Valparaiso university.

THE SOCIAL WHIRL

Weddings, Engagements, Clubs, Women's Activities

Showers Given for Mary Rinke, Bride-to-be

The Mothers' club of the Prairie Grove public school, where Miss Mary Ann Rinke is a teacher, honored her Nov. 10 with a surprise party held in the school social rooms. After games were played, the group presented Miss Rinke with a lovely gift. Refreshments closed the afternoon's activities.

A personal shower was given recently in the Lounge of Adams hall at Northern State Teachers college by Miss Diane Sclaren, this and Miss Danuta Bernard, sorority sisters of Miss Rinke. Guests were students at the college and members of the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority.

A kitchen shower was given in honor of Miss Rinke by Miss Marilyn Godsen of Chicago and Miss Lena Swanson of McHenry, in Williston hall on the campus of the Northern State Teachers college. Many college friends were present.

Miss Patricia Holdman of Lockport entertained recently for Miss Rinke at a linen shower in her home. Following the presentation of gifts and games, refreshments were served from a table decorated in bronze, burnt orange and gold, the chosen colors of the bride elect. A miniature bridal party centered the table.

Miss Rinke will be married to Mr. Wayne E. Ryder of Wonder Lake, this coming Sunday afternoon Nov. 20, at 4 o'clock in St. Mary's Catholic church at Mokena.

Gail Heptig, of New Lenox, to Wed Chicagoan

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Heptig, 169 Pine street, New Lenox are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Gail Karen, to James Eugene Jowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jowers, 539 N. Kedzie ave., Chicago.

The wedding will take place Saturday afternoon Nov. 26, at four o'clock, in the Grace Episcopal church, Pine and Hickory streets, New Lenox. The Rev. Kenneth Hansen of Naperville, former pastor of the local church will officiate at the double ring ceremony.

All relatives and friends are invited to attend the wedding, and invitations have been issued for the reception to follow later in the home of the bride's aunt.

SOURCE OF MORTGAGE MONEY

Last year Americans borrowed 23 billion dollars to buy houses. The biggest source of money came from savings and loan associations - 36 percent. Mortgage firms themselves were second with 19 percent. Commercial banks accounted for 18 percent while 13 percent of the loans were made by individuals and 8 percent was loaned by insurance companies. Mutual savings banks did 6 percent of the mortgage plan business.

Parent-Teacher Group News

At the regular November meeting, Thursday evening, The Mother's club of Coopers Grove school planned a bake sale to be held Nov. 18 at the VFW hall in Tinley Park between the hours of noon and 7:30 p.m. Additional attractions will be a white elephant booth, fancy goods table, rummage rack and a parcel post window. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Frances Fleming, president, commended the group on the excellent cooperation at the recent October bunco party. An enthusiastic committee gave a fine report.

The group decided to have their Christmas party a "dutch treat" luncheon with the date set for Dec. 7 and a gift exchange of school children are invited to attend this affair, names must be submitted for reservations.

Refreshments of the evening were served by Mrs. Carolyn O'Neill and Mrs. Leona Wuehrick.

Congratulations, Supervisor Kampe

Supervisor William Kampe of Frankfort township is to be congratulated on his stand in opposing the sale of the Will county farm. Supervisor Kampe was one of five members of the board of supervisors who voted against selling the property to the state youth commission. The state youth commission in tends to establish a diagnostic center there for the processing of juvenile delinquents. The head of the youth commission told the board that murderers and rapists would not be handled thru the center but the young armed robbers, burglars and thieves of all descriptions as well as those charged with other crimes and misdemeanors would be brought to the diagnostic center first and disposed of from there. No walls are to be built about the place. The inmates apparently are to be kept in security thru the use of words and a couple of wire fences. They have fences at St. Charles too and the boys there go thru or over them as tho they were made of tissue. Frequently the escapees from St. Charles plunder a nearby home to obtain money, clothing and a car. In numerous instances they have assaulted their victims, inflicting serious injury.

There is no question but that there will be escapes from the diagnostic center to be operated by the youth commission on the county farm property. Wherever there are prisoners there will be escapes, especially from make believe jails operated by starry eyed theorists.

Teen agers can be just as vicious, just as brutal, just as savage as any adult. They can rob and beat and kill just as effectively as their elders.

It is hoped that the young criminals who escape from the diagnostic center planned for the county farm site will not maim or kill any of the nearby residents.

Some may be robbed, or their homes burglarized and cars stolen but it is hoped none of them will be murdered.

Most of the young hoodlums to be brought here will come from Chicago and Cook county towns. Why should they be dumped on Will county? Why not locate the center in Cook county? Will county has enough penal institutions now.

Selling the county farm is not going to save the county much money. It still has to care for an average of some 50 indigent persons every year, whether at the county farm or at a convalescent home such as is planned as a substitute for the farm. The state will pay the county $182,000 for the county farm and the county board probably spend that and more too in the process of providing new quarters for the farm inmates. The plan calls for use of a wing or more of the present county tuberculosis sanitarium to take care of the persons that had been at the farm, and the building of a new sanitarium. There is no question but that a new sanitarium is needed and should be built but it's not going to be built for $182,000.

The majority of the county board took the attitude that this would be the only chance to ever sell the county farm for such a price. Perhaps this is a price to end all prices, altho it is below the appraised value of $185,000 placed on the property by appraisers provided by the Joliet and Will County Real Estate board. There are some 160 acres in the tract and it is not unreasonable to assume that a subdivider eventually would pay as willing to pay for the farm as the state is willing to pay.

We agree that the county farm can no longer be operated as was intended under the law. Inmates were supposed to work the farm and thus pay for their keep thru their services. The people sent to the farm now are incapacitated for the most part and unable to perform such arduous tasks as farming or the doing of farm chores. We agree the county board has every right to sell the farm and if it were sold for residential purposes we would be for it but we don't like the idea transforming it into a penal institution.

It is too bad there were not enough board members of the same mind as Mr. Kampe and had the same courage to vote his convictions.

In Columbus O. a first-grade teacher was telling her class the story about the ugly troll who lived under a bridge. "Why," she asked the class, "wouldn't the old troll let the billy goats cross the bridge?" "I know," a six year old volunteered, "because you have to pay money to cross a troll bridge."

Observers Say Labor Plans to Take Over Demos

Union leaders disclaim any intention of forming a Labor Party such as Great Britain has according to information out of Washington.

They reason that it isn't necessary.

They have been moving for the last ten years to take over the Democratic party north of the Ohio and Potomac, and thruout the west, observers say.

The merger of the AFL and CIO will give the unionists more power and more money. Funds available will be in the millions of dollars — more money than either the Democratic or Republican party organizations ever dreamed of, politicians explain.

The long-range strategy of the union leaders is to win control of congress in the 1960 elections. They believe they can pick up a number of seats next year — even more in the off-Presidential elections in 1958 — and command control of both houses of congress after the 1960 elections, it was stated.

A number of southern Democrats are more than a little disover their party. Some of them scoff at the idea, and get very provoked when the subject is mentioned. But the fact is that these inroads are taking place, political observers declare.

The regular meeting of the Maue PTA was held at the school, Wednesday night, Nov. 9. The silent auction, which was held, was a successful affair. Proceeds will be used to help cover costs of the monthly square dances.

Maue school children enjoyed a long week end. They were dismissed from school Thursday noon because of a teacher's meeting which was held in the school that afternoon. Since Friday was a legal holiday, they did not return to school until Monday.

The opening of the pheasant season found many hunters combing the district, Friday. Since there are some residents who are still handpicking their corn, hunters are urged to be careful. The only hunting casualty reported to the writer so far was a cat. If the hunter had been as sure of his quarry as he should have been, even that would not have happened.

Den 5, of Pack 218, held their weekly meeting in the home of den mother, Mrs. John Cruise, Thursday afternoon, Nov. 10. Bill Lohmann, den chief, led the flag ceremony. Members completed their November projects which was the making of turkeys from potatoes. These projects will be on display at the Thanksgiving party to be given by Pack 218 at their regular monthly meeting in the Legion hall in Orland, Nov. 18.

Mrs. Stuart Culp, who was badly bruised when a man-hole cover tipped under her causing her to fall partly in and partly out of the hole, is moving about with difficulty these days. Following an examination she was advised that it would take almost a month for the bruised area to heal. A defeasible contract is one which can be voided.

Confines Fire to Clothes Closet In Schwarz Home

The Mokena fire department was called Monday evening to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Schwarz on Francis road, just west of the village of Mokena. Mr. and Mrs. Schwarz had been smoking smoke and investigated. When they opened the door to the clothes closet in their bedroom, they were greeted with leaping flames.

While Mrs. Schwarz rushed to call the Mokena fire department, Mr. Schwarz ran for buckets of water and soon had it under control. The fire department made a quick run to the house but found the condition well under control.

The Schwarz family had built the house this summer and had only lived in it about two months. All the clothing belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Schwarz was in the closet and all was destroyed and the closet was considerably damaged.

With duck and pheasant seasons underway, quail will be added to the hunter's menu in Illinois this Saturday, Nov. 19 at high noon. A few tips on quail potting seem in order.

Jack Maypole

How to locate without dog-Walk in to ideal field with water, cover along the irrigation ditch and feed on recently harvested ground. Place gun carefully on ground. Sit down six feet away from gun to have a drink of hot coffee. Quail immediately will explode all around you. Shake head. Drink coffee. Start again.

This time take it easy and stop from time to time near likely cover. Stand very still for some time. Your experienced quail hunter will tell you that this really works. If quail are near they will be unable to endure the suspense and will break cover. This time you should be ready for them.

Quail Like Cover

Don't go in for a full-choke gun. Quail are small. Smack one with a full-choke charge within 30 yards and even a dog will have trouble picking up the scent of what remains.

A modified or improved cylinder bore with No. 7 1/2 or 8 shot and light enough to be handled rapidly is best. Quail are fast. Remember to pick your target. Quail, wherever possible, will not hit for the wild blue yonder. They will head for the nearest cover. If you have noted where such cover lies in general you will have some pattern for probable flight.

Some hunters claim they can adjust their thinking to that they are not disturbed when quail break cover very near them. If you are among those who do not thrill and startle when the first whirl of wings shatters the stealthy silence you will have little trouble downing your birds. Those of us for whom each takeoff nearly always is a new experience try and carry our guns where they can be thrown to shooting position with the least lost motion.

Patience and Speed

When you go into tall brush remember that the quail may run close to the ground or break out on the far side of the thicket. Don't fire blindly at them on the ground as another hunter could be in or near the thicket. Shooting through cover on the hope of accidentally downing a bird is just plain foolishness. Keep the gun muzzle up and hold the piece near your body.

Quail hunting calls for sharp shooting, patience and a fast eye. As smaller caliber guns work well against the birds it is a fine sport for the gals. Does the lady of your house have her own shotgun?

Cage Season Will Open at L-W Tomorrow

By Denny Wheeler

Now that the wars on the football gridirons have ended, Lincoln-Way Knight's fans turn to the great American sport played with ball and hoop for entertainment. And the fellows on the Knights' squad think they can give the loyal partisans plenty of excitement in the form of won games this year. The first game is against Plainfield, tomorrow night, at Lincoln-Way.

The men are up against a tough schedule but as Coach Paul La Vinn put it, "Our fans will be greatly surprised at the tremendous improvement of our squad."

The Knights look good on paper this year with seven returning lettermen on the court. Among these are: last year's high scorer, Mark Schellenberg, who poured 180 points through the wickets; tall, Paul Padzuikas, LW' 6'5" center; steady, "Sheik" Heidrich, the Knights' six foot forward. The other returning award winners are Ron Knakmuhs, Paul Landahl, Ron Hughes, and Jerry "Titus" Moede.

There are many new faces on the varsity. To name a few—big Danny "Dangerous" Wondrasek, Red Wade, the football team's high scorer, and Bob Emperor, a steady shot.

To complete the sixteen man squad are the newcomers whom the fans will remember from last year's Lincoln-Way Fresh-Soph team. These are forwards Dick Fish, Herbie Folkers, Tom Rowsell and Denny Wheeler and guards, Stan Bruns and the Little Knights high-scorer, Ron Studnicki.

The frosh-soph contest will begin at 7 o'clock and the varsity tilt is scheduled to get underway around 8:15.

Lincoln-Way will be host to the Blue Devils of Peotone Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 23.

40 Turn Out for Wrestling at Lincoln-Way

Students at Lincoln-Way who leave the building by the west door at the close of day, stop look and listen now because the wrestling season is on and one never knows when some mat artist may come sailing out in the corridor, thus making what should be a routine exit an hazardous undertaking. Survivors who have been hit by large caliber wrestlers—say around 230-250 pounds—cata-paulted thru the air, put the impact in the Mack truck category. And even the light, lightweights are extremely dangerous because of the high velocity with which they can be hurled.

So far there have been no casualties to corridor crawlers at Lincoln-Way to grapplers either. None has been flung out of the gym yet but with some 40 of them working out under the tutelage of Harold Weber who in his junior and senior years at Bradley university in Peoria was a member of the school's wrestling team, there is no telling when one may come zooming out like a guided missile. This is Weber's fifth year in coaching high school wrestling. He was at Edison high school in East Gary two years and two at Hobart (Indiana) high.

"LITTLE BILL" your electric friend, says:

"Hours of entertainment for just pennies!"

Only 3 cents' worth of electricity brings you 4 hours of the best in drama, sports, and comedy on TV.

How Public Service Company keeps your electric bill down (while everything else goes up)

Most things have doubled in price... but not electricity. Although you're using far more of it today, electricity actually costs you less per kilowatt-hour than in 1930.

One way we keep your electric bill low is through continuing research. Our engineers have found many ways of increasing efficiency of all kinds of standard equipment. Recently, for example, they added 15% to the load-carrying capacity of "pipe-type" cable simply by burying the line deeper.

As a result of this constant search for a "better way", today you're getting almost twice as much electricity for your money as you did 25 years ago.

FORMS BAND
Kay Swisher
Room 102, grade 7

Lynden DeYoung, English teacher of the Tinley Park school, organized a band this fall consisting of 11 pupils. Three clarinets, played by Bill Vodnik, Georgine Keuch, and Sharon Jochum. Trumpet, Diana Huntley, drums, Melvin Keuch, Richard Puffer and Richard Cloud. Baritone saxophone, Barbara Libbert and Al Runenious. Mike Crasper plays the Baritone horn and Claud Wolf plays the cornet.

Mr. DeYoung has taught music at the Roosevelt University for six years. He also has his masters degree. He composes for the King Music Publishing Co. and has appeared in small jazz bands throughout the country playing the trombone.

A few of the band's tunes are "Three Cheers for Tinley", "Tunerville Trolley March", and "Pony Express March". The band has played for the PTA, in special assembly programs and is now preparing for the school Christmas program.

VISUAL EDUCATION
by Sharon Jochum
Room 401

Mrs. Ada Shellhase, teacher of the fifth grade, room 301, is using film strips to further her class's knowledge of division and multiplication. History and geography are also made more interesting and easier to understand thru this method.

The boys and girls are working on their "Moving Westward" unit in their Reader. To make this unit more interesting the pupils are drawing a wagon train with covered wagons, horse back riders, and cows trailing along behind the procession.

On Monday mornings the pupils listen to a radio program "Play it Safe" which tells the children about necessary safety rules that should be followed every day. The next morning the pupils are ready to report about how they followed the rules the day before.

In order to prepare the children for tests and discussions on movies and radio programs, to follow, they are learning how to take notes on the important points.

The pupils in the fifth grade, room 400, whose teacher is Miss Flora Rogers, are working on a unit Western Movement. The boys and girls are drawing pictures and making reports on different stories read in the unit. In science the pupils are making a Chemical Garden which will further their knowledge of the use and necessity of different chemicals in the soil.

FIRST AID
by Fran Swisher
Room 401

Mrs. Walter Fierke has been instructing a first aid course for junior high school Girl Scouts during the past five weeks in the Tinley Park school. Meeting Monday after school, nearly twenty Scouts from troops 97, 334 and 335 attend the classes. Beginning with the prevention of accidents, Mrs. Fierke has taught such skills as artificial respiration, and treatment of wounds and broken bones. A special film "Help Wanted" was shown in a later class. All the girls attending have completed the requirements for their first aid badge with the completion of the instruction.

Mrs. Fierke has been recognized by the Girl Scouts of South Cook county council in Harvey as qualified to give these instructions. She has given this course to several other Tinley Girl Scout troops previously.

ROOM NEWS
by Suzanne Watkins
Room 200

Mrs. Dorothy Lankenau's room has been collecting fall specimens. Some of them are seeds from pods, seeds that fly, and hitchhikers. Patricia Mason and Linda Lauke made collections of leaves.

The room is planning a pioneer unit. Some of the children will make a mural on pioneer life. Those working on the project are: Phyllis Johnson, Cindy Daniels, Brian Lillie, Donald Morris, Diane Campbell, Marlene Moore, John Riley, Larry Leeper, William Wheeler, James Koshalka Sheryl Berg and Candy Wolfe.

Room 302 won the PTA membership drive because their room had the most parents joining PTA. Quite a few of the children have been out with a cold. Carol Roberts, Bruce Smothers, Shirley Shulien and Carolyn Nancil have been absent.

by Lynda Nelson
Grade 7

Mrs. Phillips, a fourth grade teacher at the Tinley Park school, celebrated her birthday Nov. 8. The children surprised her by giving her a bouquet of red roses, scotch broom and silver pennies, (dried flowers). The room is working on a project about Indians and Cliff Dwellers. They are studying Hiawatha by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Miss Rogers, one of the fifth grade teachers at the Tinley Park school, took a group on a field trip to the Chrysanthemum show at Garfield Park yesterday and then to Chinatown.

In the fourth grade, taught by Mrs. D. Lankenau, pupils are reading pioneer stories. They are bringing in pioneer scenes, in order to get a better understanding of pioneers. They are also making a pioneer village. The children who are bringing things for the village are: Edward Eastman, John Dotts, Linda Phillips, Nancy Robinson, Diane Griebel, Carl Klingaman, Nancy Titus, Nancy Peterson, Richard Behren, Darlyenne Phillippe, Walter Verhage, John Schmidt, and Michael Pierce.

Walter Verhage made a report about his vacation in California. He told the children about Disneyland, Stovekepe Hill and the Pacific ocean.

BEGIN VOLLEYBALL
by Marlice Ging
Grade 8

The week of Nov. 7 the intramural volleyball games were begun at the Tinley Park school under the directions of Coach William Hosteck.

The eight teams made up of sixth, seventh and eighth grade girls are captained by eighth grade girls. The names of the captains are as follows: Judy Gray, Jeannette Johnson, Bonnie Bettenhausen, Nancy Maciukenas, Joanne Buchhaas, Deanne Nugent, Shirley Brandriff, and Lynn Lehmann.

The first game was played Nov. 8 between Bonnie Bettenhausen's and Nancy Maciukenas's teams. Bonnie's team winning by a score of 55-21. The captains were chosen by Mr. Hosteck. The names of all the girls who signed up were put into a hat and each captain drew out nine names to form the teams.

A game is to be played each Tuesday and Thursday.

SAFETY PATROL
by William Tindall
Room 201

The safety patrol at Tinley Park school is to elect representatives to the student council.

Patrol records for October show post duties totaling 1,280. Twenty seven members had perfect records: 52 boys reported late for duty and 19 were absent.

Recently Los Angeles police arrested a man for illegally crossing a busy street. This isn't unusual but his name was—J. Walker.

Naval Air Reserve Offers Chance to Save Time, Money

In accordance with the National Reserve Act of Aug. 10, 1955, youths between the ages of 17 and 31 may now enroll in the naval air reserve and only spend two years of their six years military obligation on active duty. The other four years of obligation are satisfied by spending three years in the ready reserve and one year in the stand-by reserve.

For those youths over 17 but who have not attained the age of 18½. Part of the reserve duty may be satisfactorily pursued by a course of instruction in high school or college, he may have his active duty orders delayed until he graduates from high school or completes the college year or attains the age of 20. Whichever occurs first.

The ready reserve duty consists of participation in a naval air reserve training unit which will be one week-end a month. Credits and pay for four drills are given for one week-end. This plan also provides for 14 days of consecutive training duty annually.

Any male between the ages of 17 and 31 meeting current standards for naval reserve enlistment and who has not been ordered to report for induction into the armed forces under the universal training and service act may enlist in the naval air reserve for a period of six years divided into the categories explained above.

The naval air reserve enrollment center located at Naval Air Station, Glenview, Ill. is now making several counseling teams available to explain the meaning of this new reserve act which became law in August of this year. These counseling teams may be requested by any high school, Parent, Church or civic group, or by any individual by contacting the enrollment center, naval air station Glenview, Ill. Glenview 4-1000, by mail or phone.

Soybean oil meal now makes up about half of all high protein livestock feeds.

Women Writers to Discuss Books for Children

The Illinois Woman's Press Association will observe the Miracle of Books Fair with a special program on children's books at its 8 o'clock meeting tomorrow night in Room 500 of the Fine Arts Bldg., 410 S. Michigan ave. President Eunice Thompson will preside.

Speakers for the evening will be members of the club who have written children's books and who work with the Miracle of Books Fair, an annual book festival for children to be held Nov. 12-20 at the Museum of Science and Industry.

Program Chairman Elizabeth Sheffield will introduce the speakers.

Victoria Johnson, associated with United Educators, and active in the Children's Reading Round Table, will give highlights on the Miracle of Book Fair.

Mary Evans Andrews, who has written two children's novels, will talk on her second book, "Latherns Aloft," a recent release.

Ruby Murphy, author of many children's books, will discuss her most recent one, "American Riddles in Rhyme," which emphasizes patriotism for young people. The authors will autograph copies of their books.

G. M. Scholarship Plan

Lincoln-Way Community high school senior students are being offered and opportunity to compete in the General Motors national scholarship plan, according to A. Hunter Chapman, principal.

The plan, initiated early in 1955, provides for 100 four year scholarships, at least one in every state and 50 at large, at any college or university of the successful contestant's choice and in any field of study he may select.

Registration for the second year of the plan is under way now. Eligible to participate are high school seniors, both boys and girls, who are United States citizens, and who plan to take the College Entrance Board examination for admission to a school of their choice or who arrange to take the examination in order to enter the competition for a General Motors scholarship award.

Selection of award winners in the General Motors plan will be the responsibility of a group of leading educators representing various parts of the country.

Full details about the G.M. plan, including registration dates for the examinations are available to interested students from Ralph E. Wright, director of guidance.

F. H. A.

The future Homemakers met Wednesday Nov. 9 instead of Tuesday Nov. 8 because of Tuesday's testing program. The meeting was called to order by the president, Janet Feil. The secretary read the minutes which were approved. Plans for the following week were outlined. The meeting was then adjourned.

This week, Nov. 13-19, is F. H. A. week. The F.H.A. girls have planned something for every day of the week. All members were urged to go to church Sunday. Monday the F.H.A. gave a rose to each one of the 13 women teachers and the two chapter mothers. Tuesday, every girl was to wear red and white. The F.H.A. colors. Wednesday they wore F.H.A. pins or their red and white ribbons. Thursday they are to wear an apron and a potholder. Friday is "no gripe" day; F.H.A. girls are to do at least two good deeds.

The F.H.A. officers hope that all members will try their very best to do all these things.

Those Tests!

Have you ever had a test hangover? Well, the sophomores and juniors experienced one Wednesday after having tests all day Tuesday. One of the tests that the sophomores had was called mechanical reasoning, a test in which there were pictures of unfolded houses, diamonds, cones, boxes, and rectangles. In our imagination we were supposed to fold them up again. By the time we were through, we were seeing boxes, circles and squares in front of us by the hundreds. Some of the sophomores even had dreams about making a heavy black line on the answer sheet in between the two dotted lines.

The sophomores tests were differential aptitude tests rented from Bradley University. The tests were given by Kenneth Kinney, Miss Eunice Harra, J. Bryce Sardiga, Charles Ellermann, Miss Theresa Hartman and Albert Buckowich. During the day the sophomores and juniors were in five different rooms. The tests included abstract reasoning, verbal reasoning, clerical aptitude, mechanical reasoning, space reasoning, and numerical ability. The purpose of these tests was to help the students, teachers, and counselors get a picture of the students' abilities and to help them plan their future.

The juniors were given Illinois state-wide tests, which were rented from the University of Illinois. These tests included the learning ability and achievement tests. The purpose of these tests is to show the students, teachers and counselors what the student knows and how well they learn; they also aid in planning the future.

The seniors took the Strong vocational interests tests. These tests give a profile on the students' vocational interests and also help them in deciding on careers. Although these tests took only two class periods, some of the seniors were stumped on words like mannequins, specialists, teetotalers, and avia-irix. The sophomores have only one test to take. It will be given in the English classes by Miss Jane Gillogly and Miss Eunice Harra.

Inducts Green Hands

A special FFA meeting was held Thursday night in the Lincoln-Way high school cafeteria. This meeting was special on two counts. The Lincoln-Way FFA inducted 12 of its own new members into the first degree, Green Hand, Lockport Chapter FFA members also were given the degree.

Lockport has organized a vocational agriculture program for the first time this year. Leroy Lawrence is the teacher. Lockport was well served by the Lincoln-Way FFA members and a social hour followed.

The committee in charge of the program was made up of Edwin Martie, chairman, Harry Johnson and Terry Marshall. The FFA officers conducted the meeting.

Latin Class Gives Play

On November 14, the first year Latin class enjoyed a performance of the play "The Trojan Story" by members of the class. The club program for that day showed how an English writer, Shakespeare, had borrowed a story from a Roman author, Ovid.

The "actors" presented three scenes from Shakespeare's "A Mid-Summer's Night's Dream" with enthusiasm. Don Lehmann, as Bottom the Weaver, playing the part of Pyramus, died very dramatically and slowly. Ken Weber, who was drafted to play the lovely girl Thisbe, also declaimed a thrilling death speech before he stabbed himself with a rubber dagger. Anthony the Wall which separated the lovers. Stan Barnett, carrying a lantern and leading Suzie Eiksen's green plush dog, portrayed Moon. In Shakespeare's time people thought the Man in the Moon had a dog. Harry Barnett was a very gentlemanly Lion, the cause of the lover's suicides. The Duke of Athens was Dave Zechlin and other members of the court at Athens were: Phyllis Shipman, Linda Powers, Christine Duffy, George Telle, and Ted Durham. Other members of the cast were: Ed Fehrenbacher as Puck and Larry Phifer as Quince.

Before the play, Linda Ruhle told the original story from Ovid's METAMORPHOSES. The program was arranged by Ed Fehrenbacher, the club program chairman.

Select Cast

Monday evening, November 7, the Phi-Chem Theatre Guild selected the cast for its forth coming production, "Man or Monster." The play is an original comedy and chem magic show written by members of the Phi-Chem Theatre Guild. It is a three act mystery thriller, well calculated to keep you in suspense.

The leads are Professor Frankengoteschel, a typical small town college chemistry professor who sometimes forgets, played by Jim Staley; and Rollo Cognowski, a college football star—madly in love, taken by Don Korsgaard. Allan Mager is cast as the third lead, Isaac Frankengoteschel, a young menace.

The other characters are Herbert Langenheimer, a retiring laboratory assistant, played by James Cooper. Diane Ulrich is Marilyn Monroe, she was Miss Spencer of 1954. The parts of Brenda Upperclouds, the future Mrs. Astor, and Deborah Van-moneyworth whose father's money talks are played by Marilyn Cooper and Ruth Heimerdinger. Specs Johnson, the college bookworm, is played by Fred Heitman and Bill Heidrich takes the part of Sam Social whose social obligations are to pressing. Paul Landahl as Davey, John Weber as Napoleon, and Bob Olson as Nero are all zombies created by the professor. The monster, a sinister character developed by the professor, is played by Rudy Guzik.

Isaac Frankengoteschel, the professor's young son plays general havoc with the entire laboratory and succeeds in having class dismissed early. Roll Cognowski, the "dum" college football star finds his professor isn't so terrible after all.

The play is to be given December 3 at 8:00 P.M. in the Lincoln-Way Community High School Gymnasium. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Phi-Chem Association.

Program for Parents

The Parent-Teacher group of Lincoln-Way high school met in the high school Cafeteria, for their November meeting.

The program was sponsored jointly by the music and vocational agriculture departments. The program was opened with two vocal numbers. A girl's octet and mixed octet, sang under the direction of Mrs. Betty Tryon, vocal music teacher.

Following music, two FFA members reported on various projects of the Lincoln-Way Chapter of the Future Farmers of America. Harry Johnson, FFA member, reported on the FFA farm land project. Harry discussed plans for the future and results of the past season experimentation. Jim Hobbs, FFA member, discussed the trip made by five Lincoln-Way FFA members to Kansas City, Mo. to attend the 28th national FFA convention.

Following the talks, Robert Van Rhee, vo-ag, instructor, film "The Inspiring Task". This film portrays FFA and vocational work ag. in high school.

Will See Stock Show

The Future Farmers of America will attend the International Livestock show at Chicago, in a group.

The trip is planned for Wednesday, Nov. 30.

The morning will be devoted to exhibits of quality livestock. In the afternoon they will attend the International horse show in the amphitheatre.

Attend FFA Dinner

The twenty four schools from Sec. 10 FFA got together on Tuesday evening, at Onarga, for a big steak dinner.

Jim Hobbs and Art Fuglsang represented the Lincoln-Way FFA and were accompanied on the trip by Vo-Ag, Instructor, Robert Van Rhee.

A delicious meal was served by the ladies of the Onarga Methodist church. An entertaining program followed. The principal speaker was Charles Wendt, state FFA president.

All In A Day

By Karen Wade
Miss Sprayberry took Marilyn Boleman, Karen Miller, Marilyn Sayers and the writer to Illinois State Normal University for a social dance and trampoline clinic.

We left about 5:45 a.m., stopping at Braidwood for breakfast. Arriving at 8:30, we registered and took a walk around the campus with Dee Acosta, our student guide. Social dance was the first thing on the list, so we went to the McCormick gymnasium. Mrs. Zera Piper of ISNU taught us to jitterbug, mambo and cha-cha. This session lasted for two hours.

For lunch we were served a "nose bag". We finished our time by chatting with the girls from other schools. There were 35 schools represented by 193 girls and their sponsors.

Since trampoline was next, we changed into our gym suits. A movie called "Whatever Goes Up" was shown. George Nissen and Frank La Due demonstrated different feats on the trampoline. All of the girls tried to do some of the things that were shown.

Refreshments were served while the sponsors went to an evaluation meeting.

Archery Demonstration

The student body was entertained Monday by a very unusual assembly program. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Joseph, outstanding archery experts, gave a demonstration of their skill with the bow and arrow. The Josephs have hunted and traveled in 44 states giving their demonstration before school assemblies and other public gatherings.

They showed the use of the long bow and the cross bow as well as various sizes of the more common type. The couple stresses the effectiveness of the bow as a hunting weapon. It is as fatal as a high-powered rifle but much safer they said, pointing out hunting accidents among archers are rare, though common among the users of the rifle and shotgun. Mr. Joseph says that he has used the bow exclusively for hunting wild game since he narrowly escaped a rifle bullet seventeen years ago.

With a special casting bow and arrow, fishing is a fascinating sport to the skillful archer. Playing golf with bow and arrow has become a popular sport among archers. Though played with a larger ball than the regulation golf sphere, a great deal of skill is required. As a matter of fact, archers have recorded much lower scores than professional golfers.

Fellow students thought the end had surely come for Fred Madsen. He was called down from the crowd to hold a balloon in his teeth while blindfolded. A bad shot, a few inches to the right, and it could have been "Good-bye, Fred!" Freddie is still with us though, due largely to the fact that Mrs. Joseph herself punctured the balloon while standing behind him. Fred publicly insisted he heard the arrow singing past just before the balloon burst, though really it never left Mr. Joseph's bow.

Group Guidance

Dr. Ruth Walker, director of guidance at Lamphier high school, Springfield, was the main speaker at the faculty inservice training meeting at Lincoln-Way Friday afternoon.

She discussed the group guidance program at Lamphier which has been in operation at the school since it opened some twenty-three years ago. She gave a demonstration of a technique "the normative unit" which has been used to help develop character traits such as honesty, loyalty, and others. This method employs a group dynamics approach to help the students arrive at certain attitudes and beliefs as a group.

She stressed the importance of having an opportunity to express various attitudes and beliefs. She stated that it was equally important in democracy that each person "stand up and be counted" when a group decision is to be reached.

Following her talk, the group guidance teachers divided up by class levels to make plans for future use.

The meeting was concluded by a demonstration of a "controlled reader" which will be used in the reading improvement program under the direction of Miss Eunice Harra.

In her introductory remarks, Dr. Walker was very complimentary of the Lincoln-Way high school building and staff. She said that she was impressed with the way they worked together and the highly professional manner in which school problems were being studied. She was present when reports were given by the following committees: community resources, reading committee, newspaper committee, teacher ethics and evaluation, and guidance committee.

Number Lover's Corner

Here's the answer for last week's problem:

9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1—45

1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9—45

8, 6, 4, 1, 9, 7, 5, 3, 2—45

Simple, wasn't it?

(1) Try to see if you can arrange the ten numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 0 so they will equal 100.

Hint: Anything is possible. Add, combine, multiply, divide. However, don't use any number more than once.

(2) Find the number attending a school if one half of the pupils study math, one fourth natural philosophy, one seventh observe silence and there are three girls besides.

Hint: To solve this problem, you must find a number of which half, fourth, and seventh added to three equals itself.

There will be entertainment and refreshments following the Altar and Rosary society meeting in St. Jude's parish hall, Tuesday night, Nov. 22.

Mrs. Jacob Koller has returned from Hoopston where she spent the past six weeks with her daughter Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Norfolk and family, who moved there from Joliet.

An early Thanksgiving dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dowle and family, when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zanger, came from Clyde, Ohio, and his parents Mr. and Mrs. George Dowle from Chicago, for the weekend.

The New Lenox Toastmasters club met Monday night in the Methodist church basement. "Thanksgiving Theme" was used as topics. Lewis Loebe was toastmaster; William Wilson, topicmaster; and speakers were John Burlingame, Sheldon Hauck, Melvin Schroeder, and Paul Kaufman. Master evaluator was Lloyd Berlin, while evaluators were William Clark, Stanley Gilmore, William Penn, and Les Brownlee. John Minion was the timekeeper and Ernest Hoefler had the invocation and benediction.

The New Lenox Riding club will meet Sunday night, Nov. 20 in the Lions Den for their regular meeting. James Bond and family, assisted by E. C. Olsen will be in charge. A movie on the last Gymkhana show will be shown after the business meeting.

Edward Hendrickson of Harshaw, Wis., was a guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dowle and family.

The Woman's Guild of the Grace Episcopal church met in the home of Mrs. Frances Regan recently with Mrs. Marie Penn co-hostess. Routine reports were made and announcements were given of Thanksgiving services at 9:30 p.m. at the Grace Episcopal church and also Christmas Eve services. Plans for the coming year were discussed. Future plans for the church, tables and chairs for the basement was discussed with a meeting of the committee members to be held at the Thor Larsen home Tuesday to make the final decision. The next meeting will be held in the church basement Dec. 3 with the annual Christmas party. Members are to bring a gift for exchange, a gift for the Deaconess's Christmas gift for the less fortunate man or woman, and a gift for a child, to be distributed by the Deaconess. Mrs. Emma Rought and Mrs. Mary Carr will be hostesses with Miss Ethel Tucker and Mrs. Emma Larsen in charge of games and entertainment.

The Girl Scout Neighborhood group met at one o'clock Nov. 10 in the Methodist church basement, with Mrs. John Francis, chairman. Hostesses were Mrs. John Olson, Mrs. Harry Huss, and Mrs. John Gall. New Brownie troops have been formed, and anyone having Brownie uniforms are asked to call Mrs. Roy Dowle at New Lenox 5642. Brownie Troop 7 met in the Methodist church Nov. 8, with Charlotte Chandler, hostess. Sherry Alexander led the Brownie promise. The sixteen members present enjoyed an amateur hour. Merrill Crouse will be next hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Nield of 224 Rosmond Blvd., San Gabriel, Calif. are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Faye Corrine, to Mr. William Dale Christensen, 2105 Red Rose Way, Santa Barbara, Cal. Mr. Christensen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson of New Lenox, and formerly lived in this area.

A graduate of JTHS and a Marine Veteran Mr. Christensen is now employed as assistant manager for Public Finance Corp. of Santa Barbara. Miss Nield is a senior student nurse at Nappes College of Nursing in Santa Barbara. The wedding is planned for early February.

Ben R. Wescott has returned to his home in Springfield, Mo., after spending the past six weeks here with his daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gilmore and family.

The Friendly Neighbors met at the home of Mrs. Elsie Carter Nov. 9 for a one o'clock dinner. Following a short business meeting the members proceeded with the completion of this year's project, "Dolls for the Orphans" by making a small wardrobe chest for each doll. Each doll has a 12 piece wardrobe, and the project, now completed, has afforded much pleasure for the members, who worked through the year getting them finished. The next meeting will be Dec. 14 in the home of Mrs. Maude Hanney, North Cedar road.

Miss Gail Heptig, bride elect, was honored at a linen shower Nov. 6, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Heptig. Hostesses were the Misses Gloria McCoy and Lynn Heptig. The afternoon was spent informally, and a buffet supper was served from a table centered with a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Many lovely gifts were presented to the bride to be, who will be married Nov. 26 to James Jowers of Chicago. Guests at the party were: the Mesdames George Jowers, Gordon Campbell, Walter Flemming, David Barnes, James McCasheh, Norman Swanson, Mary Davis, William Chrysler, William C. Ciolek, of Chicago, and Elmer Pierson of Shererville, Ind. Also the misses Joyce Gobush, Frances Bostnick, Donna Townsend, Lane Carr, Gailyn and Virginia Donaldson, and the Mesdames Gary Tracy, Grace Heptig and William Yocman all of New Lenox.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jaklich was baptized Sunday Nov. 6 in St. Jude's Catholic church by Fr. Denis. Sponsors were Mrs. William Woodyck, Chicago and Allan Jaklich, Hickory Hills. A buffet dinner was served in the home.

Mrs. Ernest Pfeifer was hostess Tuesday night to the members of the Amite Sewing club. Cards were played and a prize awarded to Mrs. Henry Breidert of Frankfort. A luncheon was served after the games. Mrs. Heiser will be the next hostess.

William Clark presided over the business meeting of the PTA meeting held Nov. 8 in the Haven school auditorium. Mrs. Mary Bossoms, teacher of the 7th grade was awarded the banner for attendance at the meeting. Members of the 7th and 8th grade classes entertained with square dances and tumbling exhibitions during the program. Speaker for the evening was Sgt. Carlquist from the State highway patrol in Joliet, who gave an interesting talk on highway safety. Refreshments were served by the 7th grade mothers.

Mrs. Wayne Chesmore entertained her pinocchio club Nov. 9. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Chesmore, Mrs. Wilbur Walsh, Mrs. Lester Brown and Mrs. Roy Minger. Mrs. George Marshall will be the next hostess.

A square dance will be sponsored by the PTA in the Haven school auditorium Saturday night Nov. 19 between the hours of 8:30 and 12:30. A professional dance caller will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard DeNario and children spent Wednesday in Moline.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wright and family returned Sunday from Trivola, where they spent the week end with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. William Stalter and family where they had a family celebration honoring her sister and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Wolff and children who just returned to the states from Surinam, South America, where they had spent the past two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Uhrhammer and family had as their guests Saturday, her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hilgert and daughter Gail, of Morton Grove, and Mr. Coy Cleavy of Northbrook. Her mother, Mrs. Ida Rode of Chicago plants checked, and if necessary, repaired, in preparation for cold weather. Among the advantages of proper heating plant care, he said, are:

1. Less fuel will be wasted through improper combustion, thereby reducing fuel costs.

2. Breakdowns will be eliminated, thus preventing the expense and inconvenience of major repairs during the winter.

3. The danger of the house catching on fire will be minimized.

4. Less smoke will be emitted into the atmosphere as a result of improper burning.

"One of the major contributors to Chicago's air pollution problem is the home heating plant," he explained. "Proper furnace attention would do much to reduce contaminants."

Radner said that a proper air supply is most important in firing a furnace. He recommended that:

1. All air openings to the fuel bed be cleaned and made free of obstructions.

2. All leaks in the furnace wall, fire doors, and chimney be sealed with fireproof material. Too much air causes the fuel to burn too quickly and sends precious heat up the chimney.

3. The chimney should be drawn properly to allow waste gasses to escape and to ensure an adequate air supply.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor and children attended the 50th wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ascott in Aurora Sunday. The celebration was a complete family gathering, being the first time in 15 years that the entire family has been together.

Mrs. Willard Blatt of Markham, was a guest Wednesday of Mrs. Ed. Hollenbeck. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Pool of Chicago were guests of the Hollenbecks Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thode and Mrs. William Mott and son spent Wednesday in Melrose Park with her sister, Mrs. Edward Neuhaus.

Proper Care of Heating Plant is Money Saver

Keep your home heating plant in good operating condition to cut down on your fuel bill and air pollution.

The advice comes from Samuel Radner, research chemical engineer at Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology.

He suggested that householders have their home heating

The Commission of Missions and the Senior MYF of the Methodist church will sponsor a family night, next Sunday evening Nov. 20 starting at 7:30 in the church. A 36 minute colored movie will be shown entitled, "Song of the Shining Mountain." There will be a social hour following the picture. Refreshments will be served. The sponsors extend a cordial invitation to all members and friends to attend.

The PTA met last Wednesday evening in the public school with Mrs. Emanuel Englemann presiding. Dad's nite was a feature with many dads being present. Mr. Paul LaVine of Lincoln Way high school was the speaker talking on, "Leadership directed through Sports."

Room awards went to fifth and second grades. Mrs. Walter Grotewald acted chairman, displaying 40 posters she had made, showing how much the dads attendance meant to the PTA members. The Scouts exhibited the candles they have made which they are taking orders for Christmas. Refreshments were served.

The 20th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Johnson was observed Saturday night when 40 relatives and friends gathered in the village hall for the occasion. Dummy bridge was played at eight tables. Honors were awarded to Mrs. Robert Mitchell, Mrs. Johnson, LeRoy Mager and Franklin Christiansen. Refreshments were served buffet style by hostesses Mrs. Harold Mohl, Mrs. Michael O'Brien and Mrs. Milton Holl of Joliet and Mrs. Walter Harnack. The guests presented a purse to the Johnsons.

Mrs. Al Hagemann of Oak Park and Miss Mildred Leppla of Chicago visited with Mr. and

T. R. Father of Conservation Program in U.S.

By Roberts Mann
Conservation Editor, Cook Co. Forest Preserve

Theodore Roosevelt, 25th president of the United States and one of the greatest, was born on October 27, 1858. He became famous as a statesman, conservationist, writer, soldier, big game hunter and intrepid explorer. He endeared himself to the common people—the plain folks—because he was so very human, with an inexpressible sense of humor, and so intensely American. They admired his sincerity, great courage and driving vitality. They called him "Teddy", the Rough Rider, who scorned "weasel words" and carried a "Big Stick" to use on "malefactors of great wealth."

He was a vigorous apostle of the St. Louis life and is remembered as an athlete who, during his terms in the White House, loved to box with his younger aides, play tennis, take long walks, and go on hunting trips in wild country. When army officers protested an order that they prove their fitness by riding 90 miles on horseback within 24 hours he did it himself between two busy days. He was a human dynamo with amazing energy.

The most remarkable fact, however, is the contrast between what he was as a man and what he had been as a child. In his autobiography, Theodore Roosevelt wrote: "I was a sickly delicate boy, suffered much from asthma, and frequently had to be taken away on trips to find a place to breathe." Often, at night, he had to sit up in bed, gasping, with his father and mother trying to help him. Being very near sighted, he was awkward and clumsy. When still quite small, he began to take an interest in natural history but, as he says, "the only thing I could study were those I ran against or stumbled over."

When about 13 he took lessons in taxidermy and received his first gun. He was puzzled to find that "my companions seemed to see things to shoot at which I could not see at all. One day they read aloud an advertisement in huge letters on a distant billboard, and then I realized that something was the matter, for not only was I unable to read the sign but I could not even see the letters. I spoke of this to my father, and soon afterwards got my first pair of spectacles, which literally opened an entirely new world to me. I had no idea how beautiful the world was until I got those spectacles."

Roosevelt always had great sympathy for children who, because of poor eyesight, poor hearing or some other physical handicap, "are often unjustly blamed for being obstinate or unambitious, or mentally stupid." He soon learned to always carry an extra pair of spectacles in his pocket and after some experiences on his ranch in North Dakota, had his spectacle cases made of steel. It was one of those steel cases that saved his life in 1912 when, speaking at Milwaukee during his campaign for the presidency on the "Bull Moose" ticket, he was shot by a crazed fanatic.

Born a wealthy parents, Theodore Roosevelt could have become and lived as an idle invalid. Instead, he set out to overcome his handicaps. He proved the doctrine he always preached: that a man can do what he wills himself to do; that a man with determination and courage can succeed in doing the difficult things and the finer things in life. By his words and deeds he kindled fires in people and revitalized the American nation.

Our conservation movement, for example, stems from the "Conference of Governors" which he gathered at the White House to consider, for the first time in America, the vital question of the conservation and use of the great natural resources of the nation's wealth—its natural resources.

Theodore Roosevelt cast a long shadow.

Illinois to Finish 4-Laning of U.S. 66 By End of Next Year
Checking proposals on road and bridge building jobs in 17 counties, totaling $9,095,836, in Springfield last week, state engineers listed the low bidders in the eighth and last road letting in Gov. William G. Stratton's highway construction program for 1955.

Almost half of the total amount thus being placed under contract is for bridge and grade separation work in Will and Madison counties on modernizing U. S. Route 66. This can be carried on during the winter months.

A major objective of Gov. Stratton's highway plans ever since he took office has been the conversion of Route 66 into a modern, four lane divided expressway. The entire route between Chicago and St. Louis will be completed before the end of next year.

Whodunit Trade to Appreciate This

Law-abiding citizens can be hypnotized against their will and forced to commit criminal acts, it is asserted in the current issue of the Northwestern University Journal of Criminal Law, Criminology and Police Science.

The popular conception that you cannot be hypnotized unless you want to be is attacked in an article by Sheldon S. Levy, assistant district attorney of New York county.

Levy is former special assistant attorney general and assistant counsel to the New York state crime commission.

The weight of recent scientific evidence also makes it a reasonable assumption that hypnotized persons can be compelled to submit to criminal acts against themselves, says Levy.

"Not only is it likely that an unwilling subject could be forced to commit a crime," says Levy, but it is also possible "that the hypnotized person could be induced to undertake a criminal act by post-hypnotic suggestion."

"That is, in a presumably full-ly awake state, the subject will respond to a prearranged sign or signal and immediately undertake the commission of a previously suggested crime or act, without knowing why he is doing it."

A Michigan motorist, picked up for driving on the sidewalk, explained his conduct to police by stating, "I'm too drunk to be driving in the street. I might hurt someone."
